Raptor, the Express Roofing Torch, has a safety handle. What does it mean?

The roofing torch is turned off when the roofer releases the trigger. So, there are no more residual flames, which are often the reason why fires start on construction sites!

And turning the torch off means stopping the gas consumption... which implies saving money and reducing CO2 emissions!

The torch's noise levels are very low.

Switched on with its piezo ignition, the flame technology from Raptor helps to keep the temperature of the burner moderate.

Ultra powerful thanks to its targeted flame, this new product is specially dedicated to sills/ledges mode.
